3T Mini Tower Cranes Fast Self-Installation for Lift Building Materials

General Introduction of this Self Erecting tower crane

Fast-erecting cranes are transported on the road as complete units ready for use.

Thanks to their short wheelbase and compact slewing platform design, they can be maneuvered easily on tight construction sites.

The benefits of fast-erecting cranes include the rapid erection and versatility in use.

This means that these cranes can be used to build detached and multi-occupancy houses as well as small infrastructure projects.

The flexible tower crane refers to the installation, erection, or disassembly and transshipment very conveniently. The loading and dismantling process can be carried out by its own mechanism without the use of an external crane type, which can be completed in 1~2 hours or so

It is suitable for the construction of low and single building. It has the characteristics of loading, erection, safety, shortcut, high efficiency, low cost and little damage to the site.
